VICTORY BIBLE ACADEMY:

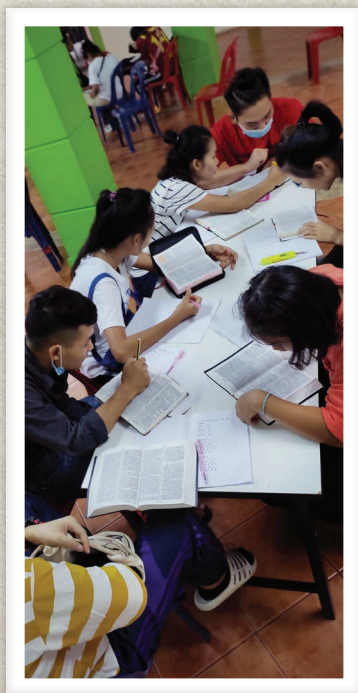

A SCHOOL FOR PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS

Strategically located on the Thai/Burma border, Victory Bible Academy equips persecuted Christians to soar above their scarred past to a brighter future.

Christian youth come from jungle villages and refugee camps. They survived Burma's violent war against Christian ethnic minorities.

They learn skills to minister in jungles and succeed in a modern economy. They serve others and share Jesus.

"I like everything in this school, but the most I like is learning the words of God because I know the truth and the truth will set me free." Victory Bible Academy student.

A HISTORY:

In the 1800s, American missionary Adoniram Judson is instrumental in the Karen people in Burma coming to Christ.

Burma gains independence from Britain in 1948. Military generals rule Burma since 1962.

The Buddhist-nationalist military attacks Karen and other ethnic people, abusing, enslaving, and killing civilians and destroying crops, villages, and churches. Thousands flee into jungles and refugee camps.

In 2004, Christian Freedom International builds a boarding school for Christian refugees on the Thai/Burma border. It is re-established as Victory Bible Academy in 2018 to transform persecuted refugees into Christian leaders.

In 2011, Burma takes steps toward democracy. Violence reduces but attacks continue.

In 2021, Burma's military ousts the democratically elected government, and unleashes a wave of violence and destruction against civilians and Christians. Gunfire and airstrikes erupt near Victory. Thousands flee.

Victory is strategically placed and prepared to minister and provide food, water - and clothes made by Christian Freedom International ministries.

"The mission class reminds us to always have a plan to help persecuted people." Student at Victory Bible Academy
